

Science + Art: The Nature Behind the Art

Nature is all around us, including in art! Some of the best artists use nature to inspire their creations. Learn about the artworks and the real plants and animals that inspire them.

About the Experience:

Type of Station: Art and Science Station

Grades: Open to all grades

Duration: 20-30 minutes

Capacity: 30 per session, multiple sessions available for larger groups
(For pricing questions please see our FAQ)

Goals of the Experience:

- Students will think critically about art
- Students will make connections between art and science
- Students will engage in workshop generated conversations with teachers, other classmates and the facilitator