The regiment took cars at Madison. -Then within three miles of Chicago, four cars were arrived at the Fort, when two expeditions were organized for the pursuit of the enemy. The first set out on the 14th of August, marching in the direction of Montevallo, companies F and I, of the Third Wisconsin forming part of the expedition. An additional force, under General Blunt, followed next day, Major Henning accompanying as volunteer aid to General Blunt. The expedition was out ten days, during which, the troops were frequently engaged. Company I acquitted themselves with great bravery in the action of Taberville, their conduct receiving special commendation in the official report of Colonel Cloud. They all participated in the action at Coon Creek, where the Union force, numbering 600, routed 1,500 of the enemy

The companies of the First and Third battalions were engaged during the summer on duty at the posts assigned them, and the companies at Leavenworth City, in addition to provost duty, engaged in various scouting expeditions through the border.

In counties of Missouri, which were then infested with Quantrell's guerillas. Josiah Davis, of Company A, was reported as killed in Kansas, August 31st, 1862.

The First and Third battalions, with the exception of companies H, Captain Stout, and B, Captain Wagner, left Fort Leavenworth for Fort Scott, on the 11th of September, where ten companies were assembled, and on the 3d of October, two battalions consisting of six companies, moved from Fort Scott, in charge of a commissary train and two paymasters, intended for the supply and payment of the troops in the field in Southwestern Missouri, marching by way of Carthage, Granby and Sarcoxie, to Cassville. Here they were attached to General Salomon's brigade in the Army of the Frontier. The regiment was under command of Lieutenant Colonel White and Majors Calkins and Schroeling, Colonel Barstow being sick at Fort Scott. The regiment accompanied the movements of General Blunt's forces in the pursuit of Raines, Parsons, etc., finally marching to Camp Babcock, on Lindsley's Prairie, where they awaited the approach of General Hindman. On the 27th of November, the forces of General Blunt moved to Cane Hill, and on the 29th, found the enemy in position. He was vigorously attacked, and thrown into confusion by a simultaneous charge of the cavalry. The Third Wisconsin Cavalry took part in this battle. They remained at Cane Hill during the night, and the next morning, with Salomon's brigade, moved to Rheas' Mill, nine miles from Cane Hill, under command of Major Calkins. They accompanied General Blunt's forces to the assistance of General Herron, and occupied a position on the right, during the battle of Prairie Grove, most of the time in the reserve. Robert Armstrong, Company E, died of wounds at Fayetteville, on the 10th of December, 1862.

After the battle of Prairie Grove, the regiment took part in the raid of Generals Blunt and Herron, over the Boston Mountains, to Van Buren, on the Arkansas River. Returning, they counter-marched by way of White River, and subsequently encamped at Forsyth, Mo. During this time they were continually engaged with guerilla parties of the enemy and the men and horses suffered greatly by the lack of supplies. Martin Van Duzen, Co. I, died of wounds at Spring River, Mo, January 13th, 1863, and Robert Goodman Company C, at Fort Scott, January 13th, 1863, and Andrew McCord, of Company M, was killed in Missouri on the 30th of March, 1863.

Leaving Forsyth, they marched by way of Yellville, Dubuque and DesPlains, to Springfield, Mo., where they remained in camp for some time, in order to allow the regiment to recuperate, having been engaged in the preceding months almost continually, in scouting and fighting guerillas, in a country nearly devoid of rations for the men or forage for the animals. From Springfield they moved to Salem, and on the 20th of June, proceeded to Fort Scott where they arrived on the 5th of July. Companies B and H, left at Fort Leavenworth in September of 1862, moved to Fort Scott, and during the month of May, 1863, together with companies G, I and M, under command of Captain Stout, marched to Fort Blunt, as escort to the post supply train. They were attacked on the 30th of May, four miles from the Fort, by 1,500 Texans and Indians, under the rebel General Cooper, whom they repulsed with great slaughter, the detachment losing five men killed and wounded. Having returned to Fort Scott, they again on the 20th of June, took the road for Fort Blunt, forming part of the escort to a large supply train. The train was attacked on the 27th, at Cabin Creek, in the Cherokee Nation, by a greatly superior force of rebels, under command of General Cooper. The enemy was totally defeated, and driven across the Verdigris River. Corporal Wm. Page and Azro Mann, of Company H, are reported as killed at Fort Gibson, May 25th, 1863.

On arriving at Fort Blunt, they were attached to the Third Brigade, Army of the Frontier, and on the 16th of July, marched southward under command of General Blunt. On the 17th, they took part in the battle of Honey Springs, in which the rebels, under Generals Cooper and Standwaite, were utterly routed, with the loss of a large number of prisoners and all their artillery. On the 19th, the regiment returned to Fort Blunt.

On the 22d of August, they accompanied the army in another forward movement, in which they were constantly in advance and actively engaged in skirmishing and scouting, following the retreating enemy, and capturing large quantities of stores, and when sixty miles from Red River, fired the last shot at the enemy as they evacuated Perryville, which was captured, and burned. John H. May, of Company A, was killed at Honey Springs, August 24th, 1863.

In the Summer of 1863, Colonel Barstow was detailed on duty at St. Louis, as President of a Court Martial, and never rejoined the regiment.

Early in September, Company I returned to Fort Scott, and acted as escort to General Blunt. The remainder of the detachment, from the 21st of August to the 6th of October, were constantly engaged in scouting, and in encounters with the guerillas in the vicinity of Shelbyville, the capitol of the Choctaw nation. Marching to Van Buren, Ark., on the Arkansas River, on the 6th of October, they were joined by companies E and K, and on the 16th, made a raid to Waldron, Ark., routing a large force of the enemy, and on the next day, moved into the Choctaw nation, and attacked and put to flight a large force of rebel Indians, captured all their stores, after which they returned to Van Buren. On the 5th of November, they moved through the Mulberry Mountains, to Clarksville. On their way, they encountered the rebel Colonel Brook, with 1,000 men, whom they drove across the Arkansas River, after a sharp fight, capturing a large number of the enemy. They returned to Van Buren on the 12th and two days afterwards, with a scouting party, accompanied by artillery, made a raid to Waldron and Dallas, Ark., where they captured the rebel Colonel Alexander, with fourteen of his men returning to Van Buren on the 22d, where they remained until February, 1864.

On the 4th of September 1863, General Blunt left Fort Scott for Fort Smith, designing to establish district Headquarters at the latter place. He was accompanied by several members of his staff, among them, Major B. S. Henning, of the Third Cavalry, Provost Marshal of the district, and Lieutenant A. W. Farr, of the same regiment, Judge Advocate, together with the brigade band which was composed of Wisconsin men and the employees in the different departments of the district headquarters. His escort consisted of forty men of Company I, Third Wisconsin Cavalry under Lieutenant H. D. Bannister, forty-three men of Company A, Fourteenth Kansas Cavalry, under Lieut. Pierce, the whole escort under command of J. G. Cavart, Third Wisconsin Cavalry, and a train of eight wagons, transporting the effects of the district headquarters.

At noon, on the 6th of September, when within a short distance of a camp near Baxter's Spring in the Cherokee Nation, the command was halted, to permit the train to come up.

Soon after, a column of men was seen coming out of the woods about eighty rods to the left, and forming into line. The escort was immediately formed in line of battle, and the train took up its position in the rear. A scout soon came in, informing General Blunt that the force in front, disguised in Federal uniforms, were enemies, and that an engagement was taking place at the camp of Lieutenant Pond, who was in command at Baxter's Springs. Of the men comprising the escort, twenty were acting as rear guard to the train, leaving but sixty-five to form the line of battle, and receive the charge of a force of from 300 to 500 men. The lines were not more than 200 yards distant. The enemy advanced at a walk, firing. The men of Company A, Fourteenth Kansas, began to break, which the enemy, perceiving, the charge was ordered, and the whole rebel line advanced with a shout, at which the remainder of Company A broke, and could not be rallied. In the meantime, a full volley was fired by Company I, Third Wisconsin Cavalry. The enemy, however, continued to advance. Company I stood, firing their revolvers, till the enemy was within twenty feet of them, when they turned to escape, but before any distance could be made, the enemy were in their midst, shot down the fleeing men, and murdered such as were merely wounded. Of the forty men of Company I, who composed part of the escort, twenty-two were killed, and four were wounded and left on the field for dead.

During the attack, the band wagon attempted to escape, and had made about half a mile when one of the wheels came off, which the enemy perceived, and rushed upon its occupants and commenced indiscriminate slaughter of the whole band. Many of them were shot while in the wagon. The bodies were gathered and thrown in or under the wagon, which was set fire to, in many of them were much burned, and otherwise brutally mutilated.

About the time of the appearance of the enemy on the left, a fight, was going on, on the opposite side of the ridge a portion of the rebel band having attacked the position of Lieutenant Pond. The Lieutenant had sent off the greater portion of his force, foraging, but still made a gallant defense. The enemy, however, was drawn off to the attack of General Blunt and his party, and the Lieutenant prepared himself to meet still further demonstration from them, not dreaming that a bloody massacre was being enacted in close proximity to his camp

After plundering the wagons, and making sure that their victims were dead, Quantrell and his bloody band left the field. Major Gillis, Blunt's Assistant Adjutant General, and Lieutenant A. W. Farr were found dead, evidently murdered in cold blood. Major Curtis was the son of General Curtis, of Iowa and was a man of established character for courage and ability.

Lieutenant A. W. Farr, was a lawyer by profession, and was a resident of Geneva, Walworth County. He was a Democrat in politics, and had represented his district in the legislature. On the outbreak of the rebellion, being a Democrat of the Ben Butler stamp, he accepted a position where he thought he could be of service to his country, and in the execution of that trust he lost his life, stating, but a few days before his death, that it "was not ambition nor gain that prompted him to enter the army, but only that he might do his mite towards crushing the rebellion; that he did not seek promotion, but was willing to serve where he could do the most good."

The list of those who were killed at the massacre of Blunt's command, we find in the Adjutant General's records:

On the 10th of March, 1865, a small detachment, under Captain Geisler, of Company A, was sent from camp at Little Rock, to capture a band of guerillas near Clear Lake, about forty miles distant. Accompanied by the person who gave information as to the whereabouts of the band, as a guide, they moved forward, and approached a cane brake, the guide gave a signal and disappeared in a thicket. A volley of musketry assailed the head of the column, and Captain Geisler fell from his horse, mortally wounded, with five gun shot wounds in his body, from which he died next day. The force of Captain Geisler numbered about forty; the force of the enemy in ambush was estimated at 200. The detachment returned to Little Rock, and a larger force of cavalry was sent out to secure the body of Captain Geisler, and capture the guerilla by whose hand he was brought to his death. The casualties in this affair, as reported by Major Derry, were:

KILLED OR DIED OF WOUNDS: Company A - Captain Geisler. Company D - Private Daniel H. Hooper - 2.

WOUNDED.- Company D - Corporal Steadman L. Jackson, and Private Wm. Shelton. Company E - Private Jacob C. Forty - 3.

Eleven were reported as missing.

February 24th, 1865, Lieutenant Colonel Calkins was mustered out on expiration of service.

On the 9th of March, 1865, Lieutenant Colonel Derry was commissioned as Colonel, and Captain Vittum as Lieutenant Colonel.

On the expiration of the term of service of the original organization, the regiment on the 19th of April, 1865, was reorganized by order of the General commanding the department. The companies stationed at Little Rock were consolidated into five companies A, B, C, D and E, under command of Major Derry. The designation of the other companies, stationed in Missouri and Kansas, was also changed, Company F, at Fort Mo., alone retaining its position. Company M, at Pawnee, Kansas, became Company G, Company C, at Fort McKean, Mo. became Company H, Company D, at Fort Hamer, Mo. became Company I, and Company A, at Fort Curtis, Mo., became Company K.

The battalion at Little Rock, under Colonel Derry, left that city on the 21st of April, 1865, and proceeded to Duvall's Bluff, where they remained till the 3d of June, when they proceeded down White River and up the Mississippi, to St. Louis, thence to Rolla by rail, from whence they marched to Springfield, Mo. Here they remained until the 18th of July, when they took up their line of March to Fort Leavenworth, reaching there on the 2d of August. Here the battalion was mustered out on the 8th of September, and returned home, arriving at Madison on the 14th, where they were paid and discharged.

Companies F, H, I and K were mustered out on the 29th of September, at Fort Leavenworth, and arrived at Madison on the 2d of October. Company L was mustered out at Fort Leavenworth on the 23d, and Company G on the 27th, soon after which they returned home, and were paid off and disbanded.

ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

Letter from Kansas.

Kansas as it is in Summer—Matters Military—Col. Barstow in "Bleeding Kansas"—Kansas Institutions—Whereabouts of the Third Cavalry Officers—Politics—Impeachment Trials—Business, &c.

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, June 12, '62.

You know but little of real, honest summer weather in Wisconsin—thermometer at 90, the south wind like the breath of an oven, the "hot and copper sky" pouring down heat and light as from a vast reflector, and the sweltering warmth and blistering sultriness of this semi-tropical climate. All this you know nothing of, though you see days when the sidewalk in front of Klauber's new block is anything but cool and refreshing. It is warm weather here, though the inhabitants tell us to wait till August, if we want to see a Kansas summer. I can't say that I wish to see any improvement on the "severity" of this blessed middle of June.

This land, in which "Jayhawking," Jehnison, and Jim Lane are the institutions!—your eyes should light upon it. Fertile, beautiful, and lovely; it is a sight to surprise even one who has looked across the waving fields and green pastures of Rock Prairie. Hill and valley, gentle undulations and waving groves, the harvest ening for the patent reaper, the rich and juicy bottoms, the uplands, on which are growing crops to feed a nation—and no man's mule or horse safe, if hitched while he goes to dinner—with every farm house a petty arsenal, and the towns and highways black with fugitive contrabands—that is Kansas.

To speak of military matters, General Blunt is the commander of this department, extending indefinitely from the western boundary of Missouri, North, West, and South. The General is a stocky, square built man, about as broad across the back, and with the strength of limb and muscle of Col. Fairchild, though not perhaps as heavy, and with Roman nose, black whiskers and moustache, and short, crispy hair. He was Lieutenant Colonel of one of the Kansas regiments, fought a splendid campaign in Missouri against the guerrillas last summer and fall, was promoted to be Brigadier, and assigned to this department after Hunter, Denver and Sturgis had been ordered away. He knows every nook and corner of the State, and possesses great activity and irresistible determination, is quiet in conversation but decisive in action, and gives every indication of being the right man in the right place. Upon the arrival here, by Gen. Halleck's orders, of Col. Barstow with the Third Wisconsin Cavalry, and after a full, good look at the quality of men that composed that regiment, their discipline, equipment and "style," the General concluded that, as a body of men from a distant State, knowing nothing and caring less for the local and border quarrels, therefore without interest or partiality on either side, they were exactly the men to be used in restoring peace, order and quiet, if such a possibility existed, where so much disorder had reigned. He therefore, at once, relieved from duty both the Kansas and Missouri regiments along the line, appointed Col. Barstow Provoost Marshal General of the State, and set the Wisconsin boys at work to stop jayhawking, bushwhacking, kidnaping, horsetealing, and kindred outrages along the border. Col. Barstow took hold of the work in earnest, distributed his forces up and down the border, and placed them under rigorous instructions to carry out the line of duty marked by Gen. Blunt. They are doing it to the best of their ability, and the result is, Ft. Leavenworth is occupied with but little else than desperadoes of all classes under arrest, and the force necessary to guard them.

The whereabouts of the officers of the Regiment may be stated as follows: Maj. E. A. Calkins is Provoost Marshal of the Leavenworth District, the highest post in the State. Maj. Henning of Oshkosh, with his battalion, is at Fort Scott, and is Provoost Marshal of that District. Capt. Vittum, of Barkton, is President of the military commission in session here. Capt. Derry, with the Madison company, is at Aubrey, 50 miles south of here. Capt. Dauman, of Sparta, with his company, is at Inwood, opposite St. Joseph. Capt. Stout, your old editorial friend, with the magnificent sandy whiskers and his company, is here. Lieut. A. W. Farr is Judge Advocate of the military commission. Ex-Sheriff Welch is here doing Adjutant's duty, and dipping into the detective business occasionally. A veritable Bucket, (see Bleak House,) few signs of rascality escape those crossed eyes of Mrs. Theodore Conkey, of Appleton, is captain of a company in Major Henning's command and left last evening with his wife, on horseback, for Fort Scott. Capt. Ross of Madison is in the same command. Cap. Ira Justin of Janesville is here with his company, also Capt. Orr with the Watertown Company.

Colonel Barstow, Major Calkins, Lieutenant Farr, Adjutant Welch, and other officers, have a camp beautifully located in a grove on a bluff facing the Missouri river, near the centre of the city, and seem to be as comfortable and happy as clams at high water. An elegant specimen of the barred and striped flocks over the camp. The dedication of the grounds was presided over by General Blunt, Colonel Jenkinson, and other notabilities, a few days since, the regiment being on parade, and a battery of artillery from the Fort playing low thunder in honor of the occasion. The Colonel named the little village of tents "Camp Calkins," and it would be light you to look in on it one of these moonly evenings, and see your old acquaintances in the full enjoyment of their "rural felicity."—I think that is a proper term. Mrs. Barstow, Mrs. Calkins, Mrs. Lieutenant Pratt, of Janesville, and Mrs. Farr, grace the camp and solace their respective husbands with their presence.—It is decidedly the rosy side of the countenance of "grim visaged war," except when some poor denizen of the neighborhood comes in with a complaint of male stolen, houses robbed, or horses jaw hawked," when the scene is disturbed by excitement of "turning out the guard," mounting in hot haste, and the pursuit of the fleeing band. The labor is often fruitless—quite as often turns up, after a few hours' ride, a squad of gallow's birds, caught with the stolen stock, and who are quietly hurried to await trial by the military commission.

Governor Robinson of this State, is being tried at Topeka, by the State Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment. It is hardly the lengthy job noted in Wisconsin history. The State consumed but three days with the testimony, the defence will probably be less. The "stars" of the occasion are ex-Governor Shannon and Fred Stanton for the defence, and Attorney General Simmons, (formerly of Janesville,) for the managers. But little feeling is manifested, and the case seems to be either poorly conducted, or else the evidence is non-comatable. I doubt whether the Governor will be convicted.

The editor of the Conservative, the leading Republican paper of the State, is a Mr. Wilder, formerly a lawyer, in Columbus, Wisconsin. He is a clever man and a sharp writer. Our old friend, Champion Vaughn, was here a short time ago. He has gone to Washington. He has amassed this world's goods to a moderate extent; wears regimentals, and is the same inveterate billiard player as ever.

—Cavenworth has about 15,000 inhabitants. Its business is immense. The wholesale houses sell as much as three to six thousand dollars a day each, in the busy season. It has fairly outstripped all its rivals on the river, and is the headquarters of the eastern trade across the plains and to New Mexico. Business lots sell at $5,000 to $10,000 for 20 to 30 feet front, and stores rent at from $500 to $1,500 a year. Buildings of all kinds are going up constantly, and the streets wear an appearance of liveliness, rather superior to either Main or Pinckney streets in Madison.

Dear Father and Mother.

Is for the second time that I write to you. I have written to you from Chicago and I have had no answer. Dear Father and Mother it is true that I have neglected in writing to you. I am now in Wisconsin with Elie Mason. I am getting sixteen dollars per month. It is a good place but it is not like Pentwater for there is about four feet of snow and we can scarcely haul logs. Dear Father and Mother it is true that I have not helped you but I have not had the chance. I can tell you this better when I see again. I intend to go to Chicago next spring about the first of May and I will help you all I can. Dear Father and Mother you must not feel discouraged of me for I am in a good place. There is a good church where I can go to every Sunday. I have been very lonesome of you Father and Mother of my friends that I have left in Pentwater. Dear Father and Mother I hope you will write to me as soon as you can. You may direct your letter to Frank Larue, Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin. You may give my best respects to all my friends. Dear Father and Mother, I embrace you with all my heart. I am your son for life.

Madison, Nov. 25, 1861

Dear Father and Mother.

It is with sorrow that I write you this letter. You will blame me for taking so much privilege on my part to tell you in few words I have enlisted in the Wisconsin Third Cavalry. Dear Father, look at this in the right light. You know that you went to Canada and you would not live there and you came back to America and make it your home. So for this reason I have enlisted. It is not because I could not get work. No, Father it is because this country needs me. I MEAN TO FIGHT FOR THE Union or die in its cause. Dear Father and Mother do not think its hard for I speak it and I mean it. I am enlisting for three years or during the war. We are ordered out of Wisconsin to leave as quick as possible. Father, I received a letter from you. It was dated September the 13 and I received it November the 14 written by E. Drichhase(?) and telling me to come to Chicago and meet Mother there but it was too late. Dear Father and Mother I don't know how soon I will be with your. I trust all to Providence to you Father as there is but little to do. Live quietly you and Mother til the war is over. The time is short and I must end my letter in these few words. When you kneel to your prayers, please think on those who are in war and fighting for liberty. Please give my best respects to all those who may ask for me, to old Tom Alexander, Joseph Enely(?), to Doc. E.D. Richmond and his wife, to the two Misses Underhill, also their brother. You may bid them goodbye for me. Dear Father and Mother, when I return home I mean to fetch a friend with me. He has been with (me) for a long time. His name is Lewis A. McClure. He sends you his best respects. Dear Father, you need not write til you receive another letter from me. So with this I end this letter. I embrace you with all my heart.

Your son,

Dear Father and Mother

I have received you kind letter and it is not with words that I can tell you the pleasure it done me to hear that your are all well. Dear Father I am well. I did not write to you about my friend in my letter but he is well and sends his best respects to you all. You say that you sent me a letter in xxxxx I did not receive it. Tom said he wrote it xxx You received a letter from Canada. You say my Uncle Seley(?) is very sick and that Elbert Bouman's(?) wife is dead but you don't tell me anything about my Uncle Oumiotte(?) and his family. When you write to them send them my best respects and tell them where I am. I send ten dollars per month of my money in the State Treasury of Wisconsin for safe keeping til after the war. It is as good as the Bank. The Wisconsin soldiers are allowed five dollars per month for their parents. I will sign it over to you . You can draw ten dollars every two months. When yhou write let me know who is justice of the peace in your town so that you can draw this money. Send me his name. Tom, you tell me about your brother in Siegle's command to let yhou know if I have seen him. They are in Arkansas. We think of going there soon or in New Mexico. If I see him I will let you know and tell him who I am. There has been a great fight there in many of the wounded (are) here in our hospital. They look very hard, som with legs and arms cut off and some nearly dead. Our regiment is all well but the weather is very warm here. The grass is green and everything looks like summer. So goodbye Dear Father and Mother. I embrace with all my heart.

Truly your son

Dear Father and Mother.

I read your letter last night and it done me mcu pleasure to hear that you are all well but it made me feel bad to hear of the death of my Aunt Cealy(?). You never told me that she was sick. Dear Father and Mother I am now many miles away from where I wrote to you last. We are now encamped at Fort Leavenworth Kansas. It is the finest country I ever seen for good land and good health. We are sent here to guard the Indians. They talk of sending us to Fort Laramie. If they do, we will like it pretty much for the Indians are whipping the regular soldiers out and we want to get there and show them what volunteer soldiers can do. We are well armed. Each of us has a carbine and two revolvers with six shots each and a good saber and a picked horse with these. I think we can make them jump. Dear Father about the five dollars from the State of Wisconsin you cannot receive (it) in Michigan. You would have to (be) living in Wisconsin. I wrote to you before because they told me that I could send it to you but I have found out since that it cannot be done. If is done for the parents of volunteers that are too poor to make a living without the help of their children and they must swear that their parents live in Wisconsin. Friend Tom, I am very sorrow(ful) sthat I did not receive your letter in St. Louis so that I could of inquired of your brother at the hotel but the letter did not reach me until I got here so by that I cannot inform you of him. Tom I am well and would like to see you some more so good. Tom give my respects to all. Dear Mother give my respects to my uncle Oumett and his family.

Dear Parents.

Your kind letter of Aug. the 5th came to hand in due time but being busy at the time I could not answer it until now. Dear Parents I was very sorry to hear of your misfortune but I suppose it can't be helped. I heard also that James Blower(?) was dead. Pentwater must be changing greatly since I left it. Father, you tell me you will have to dig all your grain for this winter. If you are in need let me know in your next and I will do all I can for you but Father you must know that a soldier's capital is not much and especially if he tries to keep himself decent and clean and bing as I am in a band I am looked on by my officers to have more pride about my dress than a private in the ranks and therefore it nearly takes up all my wages. But Father, I will do all I can to help you. No more at present. Give my respects to all. God Bless you dear Father and Mother from your son,

D. Richmond says he has been acquainted with, and familiar with the affairs and whereabouts of the said Margaret Leraux and family for twenty three years last past, and the said Henry C. Flagg and James Brooker and E. D. Richmond each for himself says, that, the said Margaret Leraux's family consisted of Medard Leraux, her husband, and Frank M. Leraux her son, and the said Henry C. Flagg, James Brooker and E. D. Richmond, further say that Margaret Leraux and family have resided at Pentwater aforesaid, and within five miles of Pentwater for twenty three years last past; and deponents each for himself says that Frank M. Leraux was the only child of Medard Leraux and and a saw mill, that they each of them were employed in and about said stone and were familiar with the affairs of said stone, and that said Frank McLeroux worked for the said Charles Meads in said saw mill, during the years, 1859, 1860 and part of 1861, and that the wages of the said Frank M. Leroux was mostly paid to the said Medard Leroux and Margaret Leroux Deponents further each for himself says that during the years 1859, 1860 and part 1861, that they were each, familiar of the affairs and whereabouts of the said Medard, Margaret, and Frank M. Leroux and saw them almost every day, and it was the common talk in said family, that the said Medard + Margaret Leroux were poor and unable to earn a living, and that the said Frank M. Leroux was to support the said Medard + Margaret Leroux,

And further deponents say that they are not interested in this claim; And further they say not.

to do so?

- Q He was about the same until about 1870. He would have said that he could not do anything.
- Q What property have they owned since the beginning of the war?
- Q He has worth perhaps about $500 during the war. That would include every thing they both owned. Since that time I do not think it has been so much.
- Q Do you know whether soldier ever contributed anything to the support of his parents or not?
- Q He worked for the same firm I did before he went to the war, and I know that his father drew his wages. I often read Frank's letters after he went to the war for the old folks, and I am under the impression that he sent home some money.
- Q Are you related to either of the family?
- Q None whatever, and have no interest in claims.
- Q Since reading your former statements what have you to say about it?
- Q Well in regard to his worth in Oct '63. He traded around a good deal, and at one time he did not have but little if anything left, but I do not remember just where that was. The rest of it is all right.

LETTER FROM CAMP, BEYOND BARRACAS,
No. 105th, April 1, 1862.

DEAR EDITORS:—Having promised several of my friends to give them an account of our progress from time to time, and as your paper is extensively read by them, I address them through your columns, (with your permission of course,) from this point.

You have already received the sad intelligence of our disaster on the railroad, in which eleven of our number were precipitately borne from our ranks to the world of spirits, and others seriously wounded, but you can form but a faint idea of the scene from any mere pen picture of it. While full of buoyancy and hope, in the expectation of a safe and agreeable entrance into our quarters—some whiling away the hours in social chat, and others yielding to the sweet influence of meditation, with now and then a sigh for home, perhaps—suddenly a crash was felt, and instantly the cars came to a stop in the most terrific smash up I ever saw. One of them was literally splintered, and the only wonder is, that instead of eleven, one hundred and fifty were not killed.

It was midnight, and dark and lonely was the spot for such a catastrophe. Added to the terror of the accident, was the expectation that the second train, in the rear of us, would be without signal in time to prevent rushing into the wreck, whilst many were imprisoned by the jammed condition of the cars, and despite all the efforts of our remarkably cool and self-controlled officers, who made every exertion to keep the men quiet, several rushed to the windows and leaped from them into the snow and water, fortunately without serious consequences.

As soon as possible, the officers with feel-

It is not an uncommon occurrence to hear of a picket being shot, so that we are satisfied that the diabolical spirit of the prime ministers of treason and rebellion against the Union is not exorcised yet, even by the fraternal care which has been shown toward the citizens of the rebellious states in every step taken towards its suppression by the government. But our confidence is every day increased in the prospect of a complete reversion of the views and feelings of the most disloyal citizens of the revolted states, as they shall learn that the army of the Union is friendly to, and not inimical to the welfare of the people, North or South.

For any imperfections in this hastily written letter, please find apology in the fact that we are writing on a small box, sitting on the bosom of the mother earth, and in the midst very of active camp duties—accommodations furnished in the unfurnished tent of your friend Sergt. Major Gillett. In my next I will endeavor to give a few more general and interesting details. Till then, midnight, and dark and lonely spot for such a catastrophe. Added to the terror of the accident, was the expectation that the second train, in the rear of us, would be without signal in time to prevent rushing into the wreck, whilst many were imprisoned by the jammed condition of the cars, and despite all the efforts of our remarkably cool and self-controlled officers, who made every exertion to keep the men quiet, several rushed to the windows and leaped from them into the snow and water, fortunately without serious consequences.

As soon as possible, the officers with feelings of humanity, for which, thank God, they are all richly endowed, obtained lights and proceeded to remove the dead and injured victims.

Our gallant and beloved Col. Barstow, and Lieut. Col. White, were on the spot, and by their calm judgment, preserved the best of order during the painful duties that devolved upon the affrighted and afflicted soldiers; with a bosom swelling with the emotions of a generous and sympathizing nature, the colonel stood by the side of the lifeless forms of his men, with marks of feeling which showed to the observing eye, that the brave officer may carry as tender and sensitive a heart towards his men as the fondest father bears for the children of his care. And what is true in this respect of the colonel, is also true in relation to all his well selected staff and other officers.

Every thing was done for the suffering that could have been done, as well by the wise direction of movements of those present, as in sending to Chicago for aid. And in as brief a period of time as possible, cars were brought in from the city, and the regiment proceeded on, in good order.

By the accident, we were detained in Chicago for several hours, during which time every attention needed, was bestowed the comfort of the regiment by those

Washington, April 4.

Col. W. S. Smith, of Ohio, a graduate of West Point, was to-day nominated brigadier general.

Fourteen thousand barrels of flour, and 12,000 bushels of grain, have come in by the Chesapeake and Ohio canal since the opening.

The steamer Coeur de Leon arrived here last night from the lower Potomac and reports that visits to over 100 families disclosed a strong Union sentiment in Westmoreland county, Virginia. It was also ascertained that much dissatisfaction exists among the rebels, and that many of them would gladly make their escape. Fort Lowry, on the Rappahannock, mounting 12 guns, is represented as having been abandoned, and the river up to the town of Rappahannock, which is 40 miles from its mouth, is clear of armed rebels in force. A boat's crew from the Coeur de Leon recently burned the rebel schooner Union, in Cachcomico Creek, not having been able to float her out.

Wheeling, April 3.

The vote in this city to-day gives 646 majority for the new Constitution, and a majority of 588 in favor of gradual emancipation. Interior counties, as far heard from, give same ratio.

Cincinnati, April 3.

On Tuesday, mayors and committees from Chicago, Springfield, Chillicothe and three other cities, called upon Parson Brownlow and tendered him the freedom of their respective cities, and begged him to visit them.

... accident, we were detained in Chicago for several hours, during which time every attention needed, was bestowed upon the comfort of the regiment by those in command, and we were brought on thence forward in safety, arriving at St. Louis in the morning of Thursday. From thence, we marched through the city on foot to the barracks, amid the incessant cheers and welcome of thousands. From every window and balcony, were seen the waving of white handkerchiefs, in the hands of smiling ladies and gentlemen. From every window of one large and elegant mansion peered the face of young ladies, whose sweet voices were heard above the tramp of the passing regiment, while they sang the "Star Spangled Banner" with a feeling of heartiness that beamed from every eye. If there are any secessionists in the city, they are not to be found in that galaxy of the daughters of Missouri.

We are now all comfortably settled in our quarters, and generally in the best condition of health, although the contrast, in the atmosphere is very great, from cold snow banks to green foliage and balmy air.

Our quarters are in a portion of the elegant and capacious fair grounds. It is a charming location in the midst of a delightful grove, and commands a fine view of the surrounding rural scenes. With any reasonable degree of attention to the laws of health by our men, we shall enjoy ourselves finely.

On Sunday morning, the 3d and 2d regiments were marched into the spacious area of the grounds and listened to an eloquent and appropriate discourse from our Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Beers. It was an imposing scene, to behold over two thousand soldiers, respectfully listening to the words of truth and love, while their forms were clad in the vestments of war.

To day, our Regiment was called out.

MORNING DESPACHES.

WASHINGTON, April 4.

Tribune's special.—Wm. H. Russell, of the London Times, has engaged passage to England in the next steamer.

Times' special.—The committee on the conduct of the war have examined several witnesses, bearing upon the charge of atrocities by the rebels on the wounded soldiers at the battle of Bull Run, and the evidence is a disgraceful record against the chivalrous southerners.

The house committee on printing introduced a resolution, to-day, providing for the printing of 100,000 extra copies of the final report of the commissioners on war claims at St. Louis.

It is asserted in official circles that Brigadier General Rosecruz is to be promoted to Major General.

WASHINGTON, April 4.

The Times' correspondent telegraphs, to-night, from Budd's Ferry as follows:

HOOKER'S DIVISION, Thursday, April 3.

A corpse of picket men belonging to the Excelsior brigade, left Liverpool Point, under the command of Gen. Sickles, early on Monday morning for Stafford court house, on a reconnoissance. The troops landed at Shipping Point batteries and marched from thence past Dumfries, through Acquia to Stafford court house.

There was skirmishing between a body of 600 rebel cavalry and the advanced corps of Sickles' command, six miles this side of Stafford, and firing on both sides was continued until we reached that place. The rebels in their retreat set fire to the town, and all the stores. Our forces promptly stopped the conflagration. A number of prisoners, horses, stores, &c., fell into our hands.

From Brooks' Station, a force of 1200 rebel infantry and a battery of six field pieces were moving up to support their cavalry.

After remaining three hours in Stafford, camp fires were built on the hills to deceive the rebels, while our forces withdrew from the place. General Sickles with part of his corps, arrived back at Shipping point appropriate discourse from our Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Beers. It was an imposing scene, to behold over two thousand soldiers, respectfully listening to the words of truth and love, while their forms were clad in the vestments of war.

To day, our Regiment was called out for review, by General Strong and Gov-Harvey, who highly complimented the Colonel for his success in getting up his regiment. In fact, it is, unquestionably one of the best regiments in the state, and when properly drilled as we soon shall be, we hope to add brighter laurels still, to our already enviable name in the army of the Union. If experienced officers and ambitious men can win fame, I believe it will be ours.

The 16th Regiment of Iowa Infantry, left the barracks to-day for Tennessee.—
Another regiment left on last Saturday.
But, their place will be supplied by the 18th Wisconsin, and others coming in.

We still have regiments—here, and all in unusually good health and in fine spirits. In fact, we are all most happily disappointed with the condition in which we find the army here, notwithstanding the the favorable accounts we have had of the superior abilities of the popular general in command of the division.

That there are a few lurking demons outside of our quarters, who would immolate their preservers, if possible, is evident from the fact that, some miscreant sold poisoned fruits with fatal results to some two or three of our outer guards, yesterday. The first intimation we had of the fact, was a friendly hint to us by our thoughtful and sympathizing Captain Justin, that we had better not buy any more of their "luxuries."

rebel infantry and a battery of six field pieces were moving up to support their cavalry.

After remaining three hours in Stafford, camp fires were built on the hills to deceive the rebels, while our forces withdrew from the place. General Sickles, with part of his corps, arrived back at Shipping point this morning. The rest came in at Brent's Ferry, opposite Liverpool point.

Our casualties were two wounded and a few missing. The corps marched 48 miles in 15 hours, over the worst mountain roads.

At Fredericksburg there are a few troops.
They are falling back to Richmond. The citizens state that the confederate government intend to abandon Virginia.

WASHINGTON, April 4.

A military hospital has been ordered to be established at New Albany, Indiana, and Jefferson Barracks, near St. Louis, have been converted into a military hospital.

The secretary of war has communicated to congress his opinion that the present organization of the medical bureau is inadequate to the service. He has authorized the surgeon general of New York, under direction of the governor, to organize volunteer surgeons to render medical aid when requested. A similar organization has been made by the governor of Pennsylvania, and valuable service has been rendered.

CINCINNATI, April 5.

The public reception of Parson Brown-immense affair. Every available spot in the house was occupied. Mr. Brownlow was introduced to the audience by Joseph C. Butler, president of the chamber of com-

Mary Fleming, while on her way to church, met with a severe accident. She was walking in the Jackson street road to the fair ground, and was overtaken by a neighbor in a sleigh. This neighbor turned his team out of the road to pass Miss F., and when passing her one of the horses kicked her, striking her near the right eye, breaking a portion of the skull and bones about the eye, and inflicting a dangerous wound. This accident is a very singular one, as the horse is not a vicious animal, and no danger could have been anticipated from the effort to pass her without compelling her to leave the road.

The Barstow Cavalry.

Tune—"The Ragging Cdnawl."
Come all you jolly soldiers, a song I'll sing for you, Altho' the tune it may be old, this song I swear is new.
About the Barstow Cavalry, who are all bully boys,
Who, when they get down in seces are bound to make a noise.
Should you ever go down to the camp, and go in through the gate,
You'll find some of the bulliest boys in the old Badger state.
I will not now expose their names, for that would not be right,
For should I chance to leave some out they'd think I was not white.

When David saw the gallant host he straightway fled to Danmon.
And jumping up he cried, "O Show, this world is surely gammon, I'll have one more as sure as guns, my fate is worse than Seces'
I'll raise myself up just in time to stop these horrid evils."

"De dird' battall on's" going off, and I am going "Tit-tum,"
And when we meet the rebel crew, with stout arms we will hit 'em,
We'll pitch our song on the Con-try and sing it through the town,
And we will make the welkin ring with the tune—"down Derry down."

May the rebellion be crushed ere my "Sands of life" are run,
But let that time be fur or near, we're bound to have our fun,
What the some boys a-Hev-ing go, and for some contraband, We'll challenge for good conduct any regiment in the land.

[Who will say after reading this, that the poetic as well as the patriotic spirit has not found a home in camp? The writer, we are happy to state, is in excellent trim for a poem or a fight.—E.D. GAZETTE.]

Legislative.

SATURDAY, March 8.

SENATE.—The attendance was very slim in this body to-day, and nothing of importance was transacted. After a short session the senate adjourned until Tuesday morning.

ASSEMBLY.—Fifty-one responses on calling the roll—a bare quorum. Whenever the eyes and noses were called there was no quorum. From 40 to 45 members probably were present in fact, the remaining answers on the call being of doubtful authenticity. Some unimportant bills were introduced.

of its leading features.

The structure consists of three principal parts, viz: a shallow-decked vessel with perpendicular sides, dead flat bottom and pointed ends. Under this shallow vessel a second and deeper vessel is attached with raking stem and stern, perfectly flat bottom and sides inclined at an angle of 15° to the verticle line. The lower vessel does not extend the entire length or breadth of the upper one. It is in free communication with the latter, the bottom of which is cut out corresponding exactly with the top line of the lower vessel. The third principal part consists of a cylindrical turret placed on the deck of the upper vessel. The turret contains the armament, which it effectually protects. We have only to add that a screw propeller is applied ast of the raking stem of the lower vessel, and ast of the propeller and equipoise rudder, both of which are thus hidden under the upper vessel, by which they are most effectually protected; the anchor being in like manner protected by the forward projecting part of the upper vessel, within which it is suspended in a cylindrical chamber open from below. A steam engine, boilers and blowers, all snugly stowed away in the lower vessel, complete the general arrangement of the battery which Ericasson is now building for the government for the purpose of silencing the guns of our antagonists on the banks of the southern rivers. The following particulars will furnish our readers with the necessary data for estimating the chances of success in this important enterprise: The upper vessel, built of iron, is 174 feet long, 41 feet 4 inches wide, and 5 feet extreme depth. The draught of water will be 3 feet 6 inches, and consequently the projection above water line will be only 18 inches. A wooden bulwark, composed principally of white oak, 30 inches thick, protects the side of the upper vessel, and extends down to the bottom, being thus 5 feet deep. This bulwark is secured to the vessel's sides in a peculiar manner, requiring no through bolts. An armor composed of rolled plate iron, in all 6 inches thick, covers the bulwark from top to bottom, extending all around the vessel. The stem and stern being both pointed at an angle of 80°, the armor will present a sharp wedge at each end of the vessel of enormous strength. The deck, as it must be made shell proof, is made very heavy. It is composed of oak beams, ten inches square, placed 26 inches apart, the deck plauk being 8 eight inches thick, covered all over with double plating, one inch thick. The lower vessel is 124 feet long and 34 feet wide at the junction with the upper vessel, and its depth is 6 feet 6 inches. The lower vessel is built quite light, as it is perfectly protected by the upper one. The manner in which this necessary protection of the lightly-constructed lower hull, propeller, rudder and anchor is attained is the most important feature of this singular structure. The constructor, we find, instead of relying on the water as a protection, brings the lower body within such angles that shot cannot strike without first passing through water for a distance of more than 25 feet, and then striking at a very acute angle, 10° at the most; while the propeller, rudder and anchor cannot be reached by shot at all.

The turret, within which two guns of the largest caliber are worked, consists of a cylinder, 20 feet internal diameter, 9 feet high, composed of 8 consecutive rings, each one inch thick, all firmly bolted and riveted we should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the above respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following superiority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advantage of a less per centage of loss; it receives higher rates of interest on its investments, thus making more rapid accumulations—both very important items in Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing business in the United States.

Squadron B—A. F. David, captain; Wm. Wagner, L. B. Reed, lieutenants.

As a body of effective men, this regiment is a credit to the state which has sent into the service some of the best troops in the army. Much may be expected from it without any fear of disappointment.

Gov. Harvey left this state today for St. Louis, to give his attention to the arrangements for paying the troops who left the state without pay.

Best, [discharged] Wm. Thomas, Jerome Hitchcock, M. V. Barnard, Wm. Strasberger, Jas. C. Newkirk and David B. Bradley; Edgar L. Miller in hospital here.

Band.—Benj. Snyder is sick with droupy at Leavenworth. The rest doing well.

Quite a number left sick at Leavenworth are recovered, and are now with us, having come up with Dr. Lord. Of the sick now at Leavenworth I can only say that we hear favorably of most them, and that they will soon join us. Friends at home are doubtless in possession of particular information respecting them. One of our surgeons and several of our best nurses are with them. Our regimental hospital is a comfortable building in town, and is under most excellent management. Surgeons Evans and Lord, Steward Wallihan, with their excellent assistants, are giving general satisfaction—they are worthy of confidence and praise. Quite a number are having the mumps, and others, colds. On the whole the health of the regiment is improving. Much of the sickness in camp is unnecessary. If the men would keep themselves clean, using soap and water freely, be temperate in eating and drinking, and keep their quarters free from filth, there would be less sickness in our army. The 13th is improving in these respects. Another aid to health is cheerfulness—as soon as a person gives way to a spirit of complaining, his imagination becomes diseased, and then he is an easy prey to sickness.

There is general harmony among us—officers and men,—seem ambitious to do well and maintain their well-earned reputation for intelligence and sobriety. With a very few exceptions the officers are much esteemed by the men. There is no intemperance among us; we are under a rigid Maine law discipline. Two fellows offered to sell some of our men whisky a few days since, and in a few moments they were both put into the guard house, and their whisky went where all whisky ought to go, back to its mother earth. The good effects of this "general order" are very gratifying. Let the people at home try it. All hands are anxious to do something for the country—to wind up the rebellion and return home.

The 9th and 12th Wisconsin regiments are here, also the 1st Kansas and 2d Ohio cavalry. The 5th, 6th and 7th Kansas regiments are in the vicinity. When shall we meet? No one knows. We have our share of camp rumors, but nothing reliable is known.

Money is gone up altogether with us; the sutler says that they have no change—most of us "go on tick." Personally our relations to both officers and men are uniformly pleasant. The chaplain's office is in some respects, a difficult one. If he does any good it will not be the fault of the government, as he is left generally to do about as he pleases. Our friends who do

Lieutenant Bailis is provost. Many of the officers, I am sorry to say, are buying and trading ponies and late. Yours, &c.,

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Thinking of a line from the 13th Wisconsin might be somewhat interesting to friends at home, I set me down to write these lines, hoping you will insert them in your columns for what worth, which is no great sum, as estimated.

Having had the opportunity of some rather blueish letters written of my fellow soldiers of this (and published in your columns,) producing the effect that such letters produce on our "tender hearted" wives and sisters, I beg leave to direct writers to the wrong which they do their friends at home when they write blue letters, demanding all that they can get from our friends at home for the first place, it is not sympathy but encouragement in its stead. From one single observer it is worth more to soldiers than the sympathy of a hundred mothers. Sympathy leads to sickness, and home-sickness very often induces diseases incurable; but with courage and ment we can conquer them.

With these few lines I will bid adieu to my friends at home that they need not worry themselves about the 13th. We are doing well, and with the exception of a few sick ones (who are now on the mend) are a very healthy set. Some of us have gained in weight to the amount of twenty pounds since we left Janesville. I think those of us who are growing in size need no sympathy, for unless it be that our clothes are small for us, and we suffer very much in consequence of it.

A few words for company K, to stop. Pliny Norcross, our captain, just got back from Fort Leavenworth having been chosen for one of the members of the court martial held at that place. The boys were all glad to see him back in camp again, and I doubt not he will be to see us, as the company's affection for him are warm toward each other. Pliny is a good man, and we know that he is. Wemple and Burdick are loved by the company, and I would fight like heroes if they were given a chance, and to be candid, I think we have the best set of men ever left the state of Wisconsin, and one hundred men, well equipped, are ready to be sworn in. Sometimes some of us get a little blue, but the rest of the company is ready to laugh them out of it, which the blues generally lead to.

HOW A DANE CO. BOY WAS KILLED.—Col. Pinkney relates that he was marching with a private Andrew Johnson, of the Dane Co. Guards, in the 3rd regiment, on the retreat through Winchester, when a small band, doubtless that of a woman, appeared from a window and fired a pistol, the ball of which went close behind Col. Pinkney's back and killed Mr. Johnson. The next company that came up, fired a volley at the house, riddling it with balls. Whether any body was hurt they did not stop to enquire.
