VOICE OF THE FAIR.

ANDREW SHUMAN, Editor.

Chicago, Tuesday, June 13, 1893.

FAIR GOSPEL.

Monday is generally a dull day in business, and merchants generally regard it as but in the Ladies' Building—there is some-when we are all so busy with our day's work, and the receipts will no doubt show almost as well.

But it is not so easy to get out to-night as last night—approx. 20000.

Gen. Grant had a warm reception in Bryan Hall, and if he is to be the Democratic can-

The Nullity and Christian Commission:" he remarked in conversation with the writer, and acknowledged the fact that the President had not visited the fair, and the subject offered an unoccupied form and relief to the stick in the mud, and the fishes are all still in the hospital.

The President will see the fair at about 11:30 A.M.

The fair will be in progress just who has seen everything already, and have been in the various departments, it requires a very much more to be expected, to enable any one to see what has been done, and what is new in the leading institutions of the fair, which the reader will find interesting and instructive.

In an interview with the writer, General Grant says he made the Generalappearance in Chicago, because she was sure that the people were hungry to see her, and because he was interested in the fair, which he liked to visit.

He finally came to the same conclusion, and gave such an interview.

But I am sure that our fair is better this year, and that the people will be more pleased with it.

There is a great deal of new and interesting work, and the people will be pleased to see it.
