THE MUSIC OF CHILDOM.

By R. STOLBERG.

When I have the water flowing.

1.

All the boys are singing in the cow-shed today.

About 10 o'clock suddenly the firing ceased for a moment. I turned presently and saw a new front of the battle.

Then we thought the fighting would be over.

But the charges were furious, and made a great sound. We expected it.

About 10 o'clock suddenly the firing ceased for a moment. I turned presently and saw a new front of the battle.

Then we thought the fighting would be over.

But the charges were furious, and made a great sound. We expected it.

About 10 o'clock suddenly the firing ceased for a moment. I turned presently and saw a new front of the battle.

Then we thought the fighting would be over.

But the charges were furious, and made a great sound. We expected it.

About 10 o'clock suddenly the firing ceased for a moment. I turned presently and saw a new front of the battle.

Then we thought the fighting would be over.

But the charges were furious, and made a great sound. We expected it.