The Hall of Arms, Helion, 80.

What splendid display there is in the Hall of Arms, the department of relics, arms and old soldier's relics. The collection is extensive and of the highest order.

What a field this is for the antiquarian investigator! What a treat to the lover of the curios and the marvellous! And even the worshipper of the sacred finds here many an idol that he is called upon to pay reverence to.

And the Fine Art Hall, filled with splendid oil and water colors, is brimming over with beautiful paintings, and to be passed over in a single visit is a sin.

Why not have half a dozen copies mailed to your friends?

The Lincoln Cabin.

One of the greatest features of the Fair is the original log cabin, located on corner of Rutherford and Washington Avenues. It was brought to this city from Lincoln's native home, former owned by Thomas Lincoln, father of Abraham, in Mason County Illinois, twenty years ago. It is the only cabin of its kind on the fair and the history of our late president. The building is sixteen by eighteen feet, and measured in the year 1850 by Abraham Lincoln and his family.

A JUDGE SWORD.

In the Philadelphia department of the Fair, there is a magnificent sword displayed, valued at $2,000. It is to be noted to the historian as well as to the general public. It was manufactured by Horsemann & Ginn, of Philadelphia. The sword is taken at the time the Fair is closed.

A new large and labor for the sanitary work, will be at the Fair in a day or two.

The most varied set of pretty things in the European Department of the Fair! We mean, as much richness and attractiveness as handwriting. Paintings, water colors, and engravings, are the order of the day.

In the admittance of the 18000 people to the Fair, we have seen a subject of great interest. It is being presented in the Chicago daily receiving the greater portion of the visitors, the "society woman." Many votes are already passed, and the sentiment grows around.

The context, by ballads, for the prize votes. Ballads valued at $200 each, at Rynan Hall, is also quite exciting. The exhibition of the fair is interesting and the General receiving the largest number of votes, and the silver one the finest of those who are to be found in the fair grounds.

The effects of the Fair are being constantly heavy. They find a large expanse of the fair grounds, the latter are the right of way for the fair grounds.

The effects of the Fair are being constantly heavy. They find a large expanse of the fair grounds, the latter are the right of way for the fair grounds.

The effects of the Fair are being constantly heavy. They find a large expanse of the fair grounds, the latter are the right of way for the fair grounds.

The effects of the Fair are being constantly heavy. They find a large expanse of the fair grounds, the latter are the right of way for the fair grounds.