BRYAN HALL

...en, after all the centuries of the world, the Parthenon must have been left to us. It is a temple, an edifice which Vishnu has built. It is a temple of the arts, and to its建造者s it is a temple of beauty. It is a temple to the idea of the temple, and to the idea of the worship of the temple. It is a temple to the idea of the temple, and to the idea of the worship of the temple.

...in, I mean, a temple of the arts, and to its建造者s it is a temple of beauty. It is a temple to the idea of the temple, and to the idea of the worship of the temple.